APPOINTMENT

J. P. DAS, Professor of Educational Psychology, has been named Director of the Centre for the Study of Mental Retardation at the University.

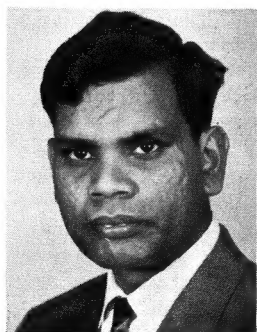

He will succeed ERNEST E. MCCOY, who has been named Chairman of the Department of Paediatrics. The appointment will become effective July 1, 1972.

Dr. Das was born in India in 1931. He received most of his education there, obtaining his Bachelor of Arts degree from Utkal University and his Master of Arts in Psychology from Patna University. Upon completion of the MA requirements, he was awarded a post-graduate scholarship by the Indian government to study abroad. He obtained his PhD at the Institute of Psychiatry in London.

In 1963, Dr. Das received a Kennedy Foundation Fellowship for research and teaching in mental retardation in the United States. He taught during the first year at George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tennessee, then at the University of California at Los Angeles.

He returned to India in 1965 to accept a teaching position at Utkal University and remained there until January, 1968 when he was appointed Associate Professor of Educational Psychology at The University of Alberta.

As the new director of the Centre for the Study of Mental Retardation, Dr. Das expects to be involved in an expansion program at the Centre. In the past, it has dealt mainly with basic research in mental retardation. The new program, however, is expected to include diagnosis and remedial work with retarded children and children with learning problems.

NOTICES

CHAPEL SERVICES

The Varsity Christian Fellowship has now established chapel services in St. Joseph's Chapel at 9 a.m. on Mondays and Thursdays.

ROYAL SOCIETY BURSARIES

Applications are invited for awards under the Royal Society Commonwealth Bursaries Scheme, the purpose of which is to provide a means by which scientists of proven ability may increase their competence by working with scientists of a Commonwealth country other than their own, where the physical or personal environment is peculiarly favorable. The bursaries are for enabling such scientists to pursue research, learn techniques, or follow other forms of study in the natural and applied sciences. In the latter, Royal Society and Commonwealth Foundation Bursaries will be devoted especially to agriculture, fisheries, forestry, and the development of natural resources.

Applicants are expected to occupy permanent salaried posts to which they will return at the end of the visit, normally six to twelve months, depending on the project to be completed. Study towards higher degrees or diplomas is specifically excluded. Bursaries may provide for travel and an allowance towards maintenance at an average rate of £80 per month depending on the applicant's circumstances and living costs in the country to be visited. No specific provisions are made for families.

Application forms and copies of the detailed regulations governing the scheme may be obtained from the Executive Secretary, The Royal Society, 6 Carlton House Terrace, London, SW1Y 5AG, to whom completed forms should be returned to arrive before March 15 each year for proposed visits commencing in July of the same year and later, and before September 15 for proposed visits beginning in January of the following year and later. These closing dates cannot be varied and applicants are strongly advised to make their arrangements as early as possible.

ONTARIO GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS

The Ontario Graduate Fellowship Program will be continued in 1972-73 under essentially the same terms and conditions as in 1971-72, pending a complete review. A major change in graduate student support may be anticipated in 1973 and a brochure explaining application procedures will be distributed in the near future. It is understood that the total amount of money to be expended this year will not exceed that granted in 1971-72, namely $3.5 million.

However, the Grants-in-Aid of Research Program will not be continued in 1972-73 in the same form as in 1971-72. Funds will be available for specific studies related to post-secondary education, but the total amount to be appropriated for this purpose and the terms under which the money will be expended will be announced at a later date.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMICS TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

The School of Household Economics will be holding an Open House January 21 and 22. A display of research and teaching areas has been arranged. Prospective employers of Household Economics graduates are invited to attend on Friday morning, January 21. School counsellors and teachers are invited on Friday afternoon, January 21.
